

Jacksoneye

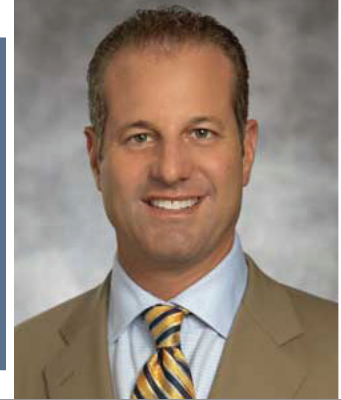

Mitchell Jackson, MD

Lake Villa, IL

Specialty: LASIK, Cataracts, Cosmetic

Practice: 1 MD, 1 OD, 1 Location

Dr. Jackson's Volume: 50 Patients a Day

"IO provided excellent live hands-on training, they were practically "living" with our office for 2 weeks."

- Mitchell Jackson, MD

The Search

"We thoroughly reviewed all available software and toured different offices to observe first hand how the different systems functioned. Our goal was to find an system that was accurate, efficient and easy for the physician and staff to use. We chose IO Practiceware."

The Process

"IO provided excellent live one-on-one hands-on training with staff practically "living" with your office for 2 weeks. As a busy ophthalmology practice with 2 doctors we were back up and running a full schedule of patients by week 2 with this system. It was easy to learn."

The Benefits

"IO Practiceware's touch screen format eliminates drop down menus and utilizes a big-button design, saving time recording notes in the exam room. The screens are customizable which enable practices of different specialties to tailor the software and meet their individual needs. This solution combines advanced features like a touch-screen interface and auto-coding with ophthalmology specific EHR software, image and practice management systems."

The Results

"We have been using IO since December 2011. We were able to meet all Meaningful Use (MU), PQRS and eRx criteria as well as comply with all the government standards. IO helped us every step of the way to make sure we received all our financial incentives in a timely manner. Those in the market for an EHR and practice management solution specific to an ophthalmology practice, IO Practiceware should definitely be included in your shortlist of products to review."